Mr. A. C. Ziemer of the "Burlington" who is so well and pleasantly known as a delightful entertainer, invited the representatives of the press to partake of his hospitality Saturday night at his home, Fourteenth and N sts. Twenty members of the pencil pushing fraternity responded, and it was a jolly company who at five o'clock sat down to a handsome collation. Mrs. Ziemer, Mrs. McIntosh and Miss Sara Gruninger looked after the comfort of the guests. It was an occasion of rare enjoyment and one that will be long remembered by the fortunate recipients of Mr. Ziemer's good favor. Those present were: Messrs H. M. Bushnell, Sam D. Cox, Thomas B. Hyde, E. B. Hyde, Frank Rohm, Harry T. Dobbins, Frank L. Hathaway, Will Owen Jones, L. C. Pace, W. J. Byrnes, John M. Cotton, Fred Benzinger, W. Q. Bell, Jacob North, J. D. Kleutch, L. Wessel, Jr., August Esser and R. S. McIntosh.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Coffroth entertained the Tuesday Evening club Wednesday evening at their pleasant home, Thirteenth and G streets. J. G. Whittier was the author of the evening and an interesting program rendered by Miss Della Loomis, Mr. H. S. Freeman, Mr. S. T. St. John and Mr. W. Morton Smith was given, and there were musical selections by Miss Ethel Marsland, Miss Griffith and Miss Anna Barr. Mr. W. S. Stull was elected a member of the club. The following were present: Misses Nellie White, Carrie Wasmers, Anna Barr, Gertrude Laws, Minnie Latta, Olive Latta, Anne Funke, Maude Smith, Grace Griffith, Della Loomis, Clara Walsh and Ethel Marsland; Messrs Frank Zehrung, G. W. Gerwig, John T. Dorgan, W. Morton Smith, W. E. Hardy, Dr. C. F. Ladd, H. S. Freeman, W. E. Clarke, S. T. St. John, C. D. Mullen, J. P. Faucon, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Ewing and Mrs. Green.

A committee has been appointed by the Union club to report on the advisability of erecting a club building. The project is on foot to erect a magnificent structure on the south east corner of Eleventh and M streets at a cost of about $70,000. Plans have been prepared and they are now being discussed. Should this scheme go through the Union club will have one of the finest and most elaborately equipped club houses in this part of the country. By the way, they say that Lincoln is really going to have a new opera house and parties interested in this enterprise are trying to induce the club to occupy quarters in the building.

Yesterday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Riggs, 1837 D Street, was the scene of another bright and animated gathering of charming ladies. Mrs. Riggs received a number of her lady friends and royally entertained them at a delightful Kensington tea. The fair hostess was at her best and the afternoon passed pleasantly for all present, a list of them being the following: Mesdames, Benton, Mauritious, Wells, Swan Plank, Bosseman, M. E. Wheeler, Newmark, Wise, Turner, Perkins, Preston, Outcalt and Miss Stuart of Matoon, Ill.

Rev. F. S. Stein of the St. Paul M. E. church at high noon Tuesday, officiated at the ceremony uniting Mr. William G. Ritter of Kansas City and Miss Laura Blizard of this city in marriage. The event was celebrated at the residence of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Ritter left in the afternoon for Kansas City where they will reside permanently.

Miss Gertrude Perry and Mr. Incoe Marquis were united in marriage Wednesday evening by Rev. O. E. Baker, at the residence of the bride's parents, 1533 O Street. A few intimate friends were present at the ceremony who were invited to a bounteous wedding supper at the Opelt later in the evening.

Gov. Boyd received an unusual and highly appreciated compliment Tuesday evening after the concert at the opera house, namely a serenade by the United States Marine band at the Lincoln. The executive responded eloquently and then came the "Star Spangled Banner."

Crete promises to be a very popular resort for Lincoln people this summer. The Tuesday Evening club is making preparations for a two weeks camping party the latter part of July, and other outing expeditions are contemplated. Verily, the fame of the grove on the beautiful Blue is spreading.

Death of Mrs. Morris.

The many friends of Mrs. J. F. Morris will be pained to learn of the death of that estimable lady. After an illness of over three months she ceased this worldly existence at two o'clock yesterday morning at the family residence 1540 south Nineteenth street, leaving a loving husband and daughter, the latter being eight years old. The funeral takes place at half past twelve today from the Church of Christ, corner of Fourteenth and K streets. The remains will be shipped to Youngstown, Ohio, for interment at 2:40 p. m. via the Burlington. Although sick for a long time, the announcement was received with surprise by many of the friends of Mrs. Morris, all of whom in the hour of despair and affliction extend to the bereaved relatives their heartfelt sympathy. In consequence of the bereavement Judge & Morris' store was closed yesterday and will remain so until after the funeral today.

Sam Herschler and Leon Eisfeld.

These two gentlemen whose names are familiar to many Lincolinites are no longer residents among us nor have they any business interests here, but their many friends will nevertheless be glad to learn of their recent association in business at Burlington, Ia., succeeding a well known and old established firm of E. M. Eisfeld & Co., under the title of Eisfeld Clothing Co. Mr. Herschler retired from the firm of Newmark & Herschler of this city March first to join Mr. Eisfeld who was from 1885 to 1888 head salesman at the Globe Clothing house of this city, in the new enterprise just announced taking effect Wednesday. Both gentlemen are experienced and energetic workers in the mercantile field and will undoubtedly meet with continued success in their new undertaking.

The present fad in society is the presentation of souvenir spoons and of course to be out with the procession and in fact to be "in the swim" Hallett, the jeweller, has now in stock a full and beautiful line of them. He has had some of these popular goods in for some time past, but now he has the line that will catch the heart of all that want anything in this line. You must see them—they embrace all the novelties besides the more plain and thoroughly artistic ones. You may always depend on Hallett having all the seasons novelties, that's what he is in the business for. Now you will want one or more of these pretty souvenirs for your friends and if they are out of the city send one of those that have the word "Lincoln" handsomely embossed in the bowl of the spoon. Hallett has a big line of them and he will help you select a choice if you will go around and see him.

Odell Moves East.

It will be a matter of considerable surprise to many that have not seen the sign placed on Odell's counters that this popular dining hall will after May first cease to be conducted in its present quarters. In fact tomorrow's last Sunday meal will be reserved for the removal of all Mr. Odell's effects to a new and very desirable location at 1528 O Street, which has been leased for a term of years. Evidently the genial Mr. Odell does not coincide with the deceased Greeley's old and well tried maxim "go west, young man," and if the great old journalist had lived to see Lincoln in its present day, he would himself be saying "go east young man" instead. Fact is trade and travel is all moving east in this city, and to be up with the procession Mr. Odell found it necessary to go where the crowd is going. A year ago when east O Street was yet in its infancy as a business locality such a move would have proved disastrous, but today with the most of the larger mercantile houses in that section, most of the residents of that portion of the city, and most of the travel gradually but constantly moving in that direction, it is considered by all long-headed people to be a very wise and far seeing move on the part of Mr. Odell.

Odell's dining hall has in the past eight years won an enviable reputation. It has always catered to the best element of trade and succeeded in retaining their patronage with the best service in the city, well cooked and a clean and palatable place at any and all times. In the new place the same order of things will prevail and while at first it may seem a little out of the way for some of the down town merchants yet the walk of but a few blocks will do them good and bring them down to the new place for their daily bread and sustenance.

The new place will be all refitted with new furnishings and the dining hall will look even better than the one just about to be vacated, while the seating capacity will be almost as large. Don't fail to make arrangements to take your next Sunday's dinner at the new Odell dining hall 1528 O Street.

THE CENTER OF POPULATION.

It Has Marched Westward Steadily Along the Thirty-ninth Parallel.

According to a recent census bulletin the center of population in the United States rested on June 1, 1890, in southern Indiana, at a point a little west of south of Greensburg, the county seat of Decatur county, and twenty miles east of Columbus, Ind. The closeness with which the center of population, through such rapid westward movement as has been recorded, has clung to the parallel of 39 degs. of latitude cannot fail to be noticed. The most northern point reached was at the start, in 1790; the most southern point was in 1830, the preceding decade having witnessed a rapid development of population in the southwest, Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana having been admitted as states and Florida annexed and organized as a territory. The extreme variation in latitude has been less than 19 minutes, while the hundred years of record have accomplished a movement of longitude of nearly 9.5 degs.

Assuming the westward movement to have been uniformly along the parallel of 39 degs. of latitude, the westward movement of the several decades has been as follows: 1790-1800, 41 miles; 1800-10, 36 miles; 1810-20, 30 miles; 1820-30, 30 miles; 1830-40, 55 miles; 1840-50, 55 miles; 1850-60, 61 miles; 1860-70, 42 miles; 1870-80, 58 miles; and 1880-90, 48 miles, a total westward movement of 505 miles. The sudden acceleration of movement between 1850 and 1860 was due to the transfer of a considerable body of population from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, twelve individuals in San Francisco exerting as much pressure at the then pivotal point—viz., the crossing of the 83rd meridian and the 39th parallel—as forty individuals at Boston.

Window dressing in our modern day has become a wonderful art, but it was not until within the few last years that this metropolitan idea struck Lincoln. Few people that have passed the beautifully arranged windows of the Ewing Clothing company have failed to observe the unusual amount of taste and skill that is shown in the arrangement of the superb line of goods which are being displayed. All during the week crowds have admired the deft work of the artist Mr. C. Speed and the line of fine suits for spring wear have been deftly shown. The furnishing goods window is in itself a work of great art and illustrates what the company carries on the interior in the way of hats, hosiery, shirts, neckwear and a dozen other things in mens small wear. These beautiful exhibits are changed weekly and each change is as eagerly looked for by passers as the advent of a new attraction at the opera house. If you have not made it a point to look in at Ewing Clothing company's windows heretofore when passing, don't fail hereafter to do so. You will always see something to interest you.
